Appearance

Pale lemon with a hint of green at the rim. Bright, clear, and youthful in the glass—a visual promise of freshness.

Nose

Expressive and aromatic, the nose opens with ripe guava and unfolds into layers of white pear and tropical fruit, all lifted by a hint of citrus blossom.

Palate

Dry and elegant, with vibrant acidity and a supple mid-palate. Flavours of crisp green apple, ripe pear, and lemon zest give way to a soft, lingering finish of white peach.

Estate & Family Philosophy

Lovane is South Africa's smallest commercial wine estate, tucked away in the heart of Stellenbosch. Since 2003, the Visser family — Theresa, Hennie, and their twin daughters — have run the farm with a hands-on, honest approach rooted in tradition and care.

While this Chenin Blanc isn't estate-grown, it's crafted with the same attention to detail and heartfelt philosophy behind every Lovane wine: simple things done well, with patience, passion, and purpose.

Conclusion

The 2025 vintage brought a cool, dry spring followed by a warm, even ripening season—ideal for preserving Chenin Blanc's natural acidity and delicate aromatics. Fermented in stainless steel to showcase its pure fruit character, this wine offers bright guava, pear, and citrus notes, with a gentle minerality and a clean, lingering finish.

Serving & Cellaring Information

Made with intention and heart, this Chenin Blanc is a refreshing, elegant companion to any table. Serve well-chilled—perfect for summer lunches, sundowner moments, or just enjoying the quiet pleasure of a wine made with love.
